

Kanza El-Diwany

Kanza is Youth Underground's Logo Designer and Instagram Manager. At the age of 17, Kanza managed to capture what we were all about in one amazing image, and redefined our IG this year—responsible for all its content! She brought the issue of human trafficking to the attention of her class at the age of 13, and was directly responsible for involving the International School of Geneva in education about this illicit trade. Two years later, she attended the World Economic Forum's Annual Meeting in Davos, where she took the stage and performed two songs to represent End Human Trafficking Now's youth group. Kanza had been selected by the NGO's Board of Directors to perform on behalf of youth her age to raise awareness about human trafficking, and to represent The International School of Geneva—the School's first student participation in such a prestigious event. Kanza is currently pursuing studies in the UK, while managing our Instagram account on a daily basis.