

Matt Benton

Matt is Youth Underground's Project Outreach Adviser, working on a range of tasks to support the ever-growing awareness of human trafficking. Born in London, Matt has since spent time growing up in Geneva, Manchester and Barcelona, respectively. He completed his International Baccalaureate at College du Léman, an international school based in Geneva, Switzerland, and went on to obtain his BA with first class honors in International Business at Manchester Metropolitan University, UK. He has worked as a football coach, summer school counsellor, and for several years now, in the area of human resources as a recruiter. Matt has built a strong set of interpersonal skills having benefitted from such a diverse group of stakeholders in varied multi-cultural backgrounds—a strong asset to Youth Underground's diverse activities worldwide.
